

Frozen Star

Frozen star you have more warmth

Than we have on earth,

Though you live 4.5 light-years away,

Just above the Absolute Zero.

We on earth are killing each other at regular intervals,

Squandering the wisdom of our religions,

Denying us the radiation of our hearts -

Satan in us never rests.

The lust for material glory is endless,

The power of the ego unblinking,

We want to be Gods,

But without their compassion.

Much as I walked through the corridors of the world,

Much I heard the shrill noises of self-glory,

Much I saw the lust of materialism,

Much I felt the sickness of narcissism.

It seems mankind and wisdom are

Like an asymptote and a curve,
Closer they get,
But yet they never meet.

Dear frozen star,
I wish I had never visited earth,
Let alone its world,
I would have liked to live in eternity with you.

Suffern, New York, Dec. 19, 2016; Rev. Dec. 22,2016

www.kaulscorner.com

maharaj.kaul@yahoo.com

Note:

The star mentioned here is Alpha Centauri, which is 4.37 light-years from us, that is about 26,220,000,000 miles. It is among the brightest stars in the sky.

